

Problem with the earth

I'm writing this letter in an effort arouse public concern about overpopulation.

Nowadays, there are nearly 7.200 million people on the earth and the population is still growing quickly. If this trends continues, the eco-system will soon overload and get an irreparable damage.

To help this for this problem, we expect the governments, not only our country, but also the United Nations, to establish new laws to control the growth of the population, and exploit new land, develop outer space and colonize new planets.

For individuals, we need to learn more about contraception and consider to give birth to a new baby carefully so that the population can be controlled.

I sincerely hope everyone will take action to protect our earth.
